

LAUNCH OF AN ONLINE PLATFORM FOR TEACHERS AND LEARNERS OF JAPANESE

Professors Alessandro Benati and Sayoko Yamashita will be launching a new online platform for teachers of Japanese in the United Kingdom.

*The Daiwa Foundation is hosting the launch
17 October, 2016, 14:00-16:00*

Alessandro Benati, Ph.D., University of Portsmouth
Professor of Second Language Acquisition and Head of School of Languages and Area Studies

and

Sayoko Yamashita, Ed.D, Jissen Women's University
Professor of Humanities and Social Sciences

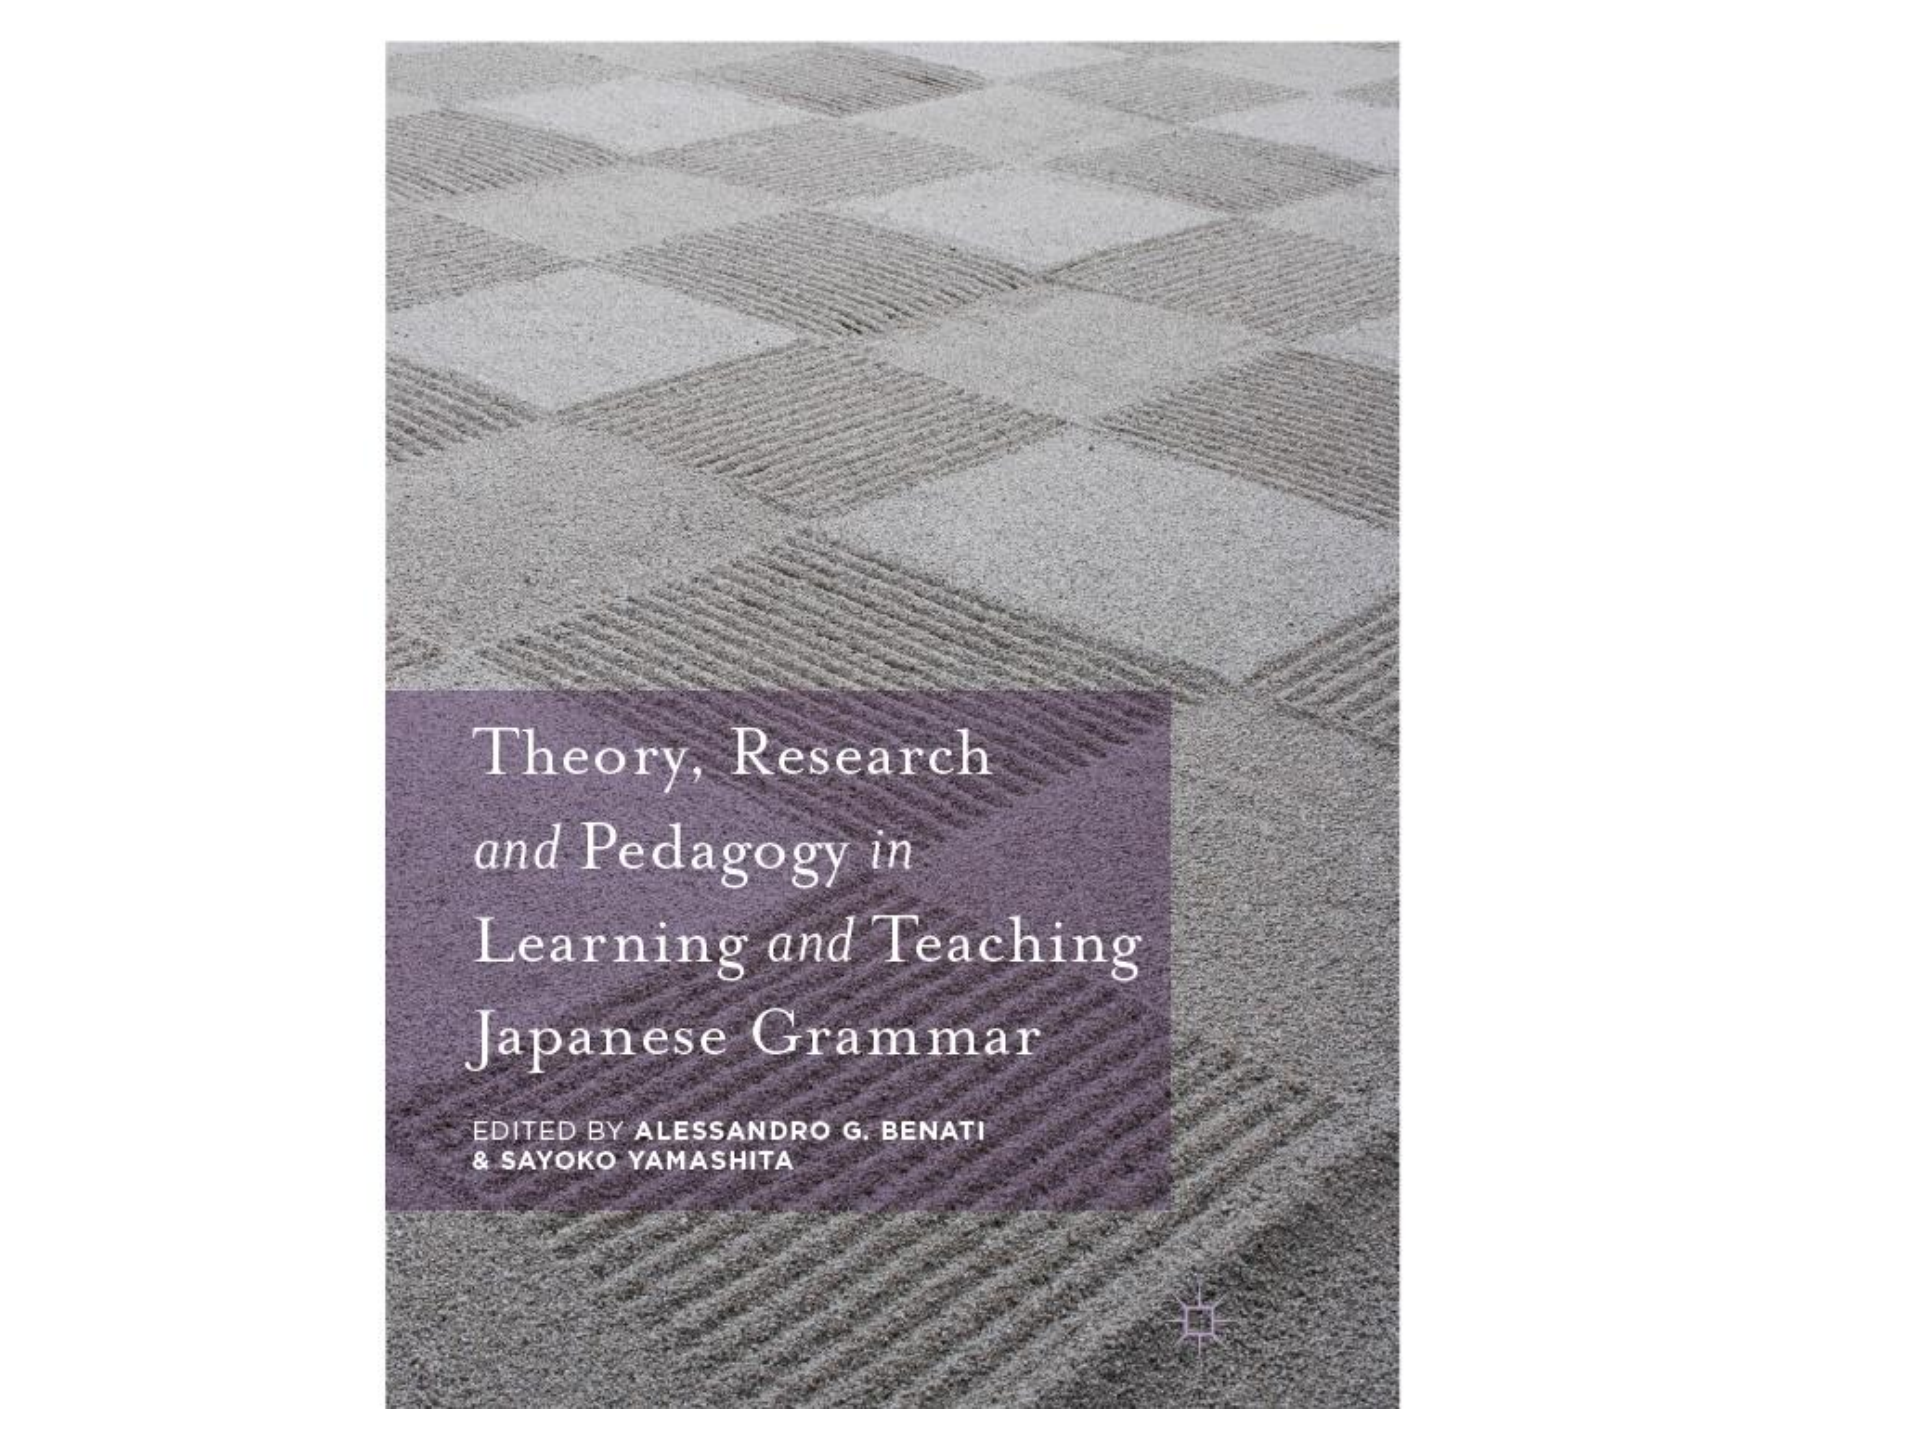

Two research grants

- Japanese MEXT (Ministry of Education) Fund Support [Scientific Research Fund: Basic Research Type C, No. 16K02821]
- The Sasakawa Foundation, UK

This site is based on a book

--on learning and teaching Japanese theory, research and pedagogy in learning and teaching Japanese grammar.

- Benati, A. & Yamashita, S. (2016). Theory, Research and Pedagogy in Learning and Teaching Japanese Grammar. London: Palgrave Macmillan. ---coming soon!!

Theory, Research and Pedagogy in Learning and Teaching
Japanese Grammar

EDITED BY ALESSANDRO G. BENATI
& SAYOKO YAMASHITA

Contents

1 Introduction	1
Alessandro G. Benati and Sayoko Yamashita
Part I Theoretical Perspectives	5
2 Theoretical and Pedagogical Views on the Role of Grammar Instruction	7
Alessandro G. Benati and Benedetta Basile
3 Review of Classroom-Based Research on the Acquisition of Japanese Grammar	43
Sayoko Yamashita
Part II Research and Pedagogical Applications	75
4 Processing Instruction and the Acquisition of Japanese Morphology and Syntax	77
Alessandro G. Benati

5 L2 Learners and the Apparent Problem of Morphology: Evidence from L2 Japanese	103
Megan Smith
6 The Role of Linguistic Explanation in the Acquisition of Japanese Imperfective - teiru	127
Yumiko Nishi and Yasuhiro Shirai
7 Grammar for Reading Japanese as a Second Language: Variation of Stance Expressions Using to omou in Different Written Registers	157
Noriko Iwasaki
8 An Integrated Grammar-Pragmatics Approach: Teaching Style Shifting in Japanese	187
Sayoko Yamashita and Noriko Ishihara
Index	219

Japanese Grammar World